

AFTER DINNER

Photograph by Greg Siple

The TransAm group had just finished dinner. A couple of group members were attending to the post-meal cleanup. The rest of the group members were free to relax. It had been a long day ending at a campsite above 5,000 feet on the Idaho/Montana border. Tomorrow's ride would be a long downhill along the Lochsa River with no services until mile 56. Plenty to talk about.