Come Celebrate Adventure CYCLING'S GOLDEN JUBILEE

For half a century, our nonprofit mission has been to stoke the fires of bicycle travelers both new and knowledgeable through advocacy, cartography, storytelling, and — of course — guided tours. So, there's no better way to celebrate our 50th birthday in 2026 than by joining one of our 18 guided rides!

I felt an incredible sense of accomplishment after my epic tour and a bond with the people who shared the journey.

TOUR TYPES

 FULLY SUPPORTED
Catered meals. Hauled luggage. Nights under the stars for those who want them and nights in motels for those who don't. These tours are larger in size (20 to 50 participants) and staffed by several tour leaders all looking out for you.

 INN-TO-INN
Prefer a cozy bed over a sleeping pad? Well then, an inn-to-inn tour is for you. There is no vehicle support, but you'll only need to carry enough gear to get to the next accommodation.

 SELF-CONTAINED
All pedal, no metal, er, vehicles that is. On a self-contained tour, your group will carry its own gear, cook its own food, and spend most nights under the stars. An indoor stay or restaurant may be sprinkled in just when you need it most.

 VAN-SUPPORTED
With a van carrying your gear, you'll still make lifelong friends at camp over communal meals and shared duties, just without a full set of panniers to weigh you down.

DIFFICULTY LEVELS

LEVEL	MILES (average per day)	TERRAIN	ELEVATION GAIN (average feet per day)
1	35	Gentle with occasional rolling hills	less than 1,500
2	35 to 45	Rolling Hills with occasional hilly sections	1,000-2,000 with a single day's total not exceeding 3,000
3	35 to 45	Hilly with some days very hilly	1,500-3,000 with a single day's total not exceeding 4,000
4	45 to 60	Very Hilly with some mountainous days	2,500-4,500 with a single day's total not exceeding 4,000
5	50 to 75	Mountainous with days that vary on epic tours	2,000-5,000 with days possibly exceeding 5,000

I loved the experience. My goal was to learn the basics of bike touring by doing...mission accomplished! Through all that I learned, I felt empowered to hit the road on my own.
